in the Dock and Packed in Cells While Awaiting a Hearing-The Intense Heat Adds to Their Misery. Sixty Cases Heard by the Judge.

That the facilities of the Police Court are inadequate to meet the demand on them was again emphasized this morning. When Judge Scott took his seat on the bench the dock in the lower court was crowded to its utmost capacity, and a large number of prisoners were kept packed in the stuffy cells until room was made for them in the dock. All told there were about sixty offenders in custody and they included many women, two of whom were white. All were

A quarrel over a debt amounting to 60 cents between Eugene Boston and Sprigg James, both colored, resulted in a heated argument, and, it was alleged, the too free use of profanity by Boston. As a consequence Boston was arraigned before Judge Scott, charged with profanity and disorderly conduct. Boston emphatically denied that he was guilty, but was ordered to spend thirty days in the workhouse in default of payment of a fine of $10.

Charitable Institutions Supported Part, to Be Inspected-All Must Make Reports When Requested to Do So-Other Matters of Interest.

George S. Wilson the Secretary to the Board of Charities, has taken charge of position. According to his own view of the new position. According to his own view of the situation, there is plenty to do, at least for the heated term, and he thinks that the official burdens of his office will be quite enough for one man to carry.

Mr. Wilson, speaking of the work of the new board, explained to a reporter of The Times today that the field of operations had been much enlarged as compared with that of the former Superintendent of Charitles, by the act of Congress creating the board. He stated that it was not only the duty of the board to visit and inspect charitable institutions supported by money appropriated by Congress, but it will be "Action was promptly taken by Mr. New York of the situation through a letter didressed to Martin McNamara and others." appropriated by Congress, but it will be called upon to furnish the committees of Congress annual estimates for the appropriations to the institutions that look to the National Treasury for their support in whole or in part.

The secretary stated that the law was very explicit in its provisions on these points, and he thought the new order of points, and he thought the new order of things would necessarily put large labors on the office of the board. Taking up a copy of the organic act approved by Congress June 6, 1960, Mr. Wilson pointed out the duties of the board as laid down in the law. With regard to the visiting duties of the board the law says:

"The said Board of Charities shall visit, inspect and maintain a general supervisions of the said Board of the same and maintain a general supervision.

It believes that Mr. Worth acted in good faith and with due diligence to over the charitable institutions of the District which are aided or supported by public money. The board is not only to vis.t but to lay down rules for the conduct of such institutions, the secretary thought, and it is specially enjoined that the institutions are to hear any undue. Mr. Wilson said it was evident the inten-tion of the statutes was that the board such institutions, the secretary thought, and it is specially enjoined that the institutions are to heed said rules if they are to continue to receive money from the Government. Calling attention to ano her part of the law, Mr. Wikaon showed that the statute required that the officers in charge of all institutions subject to the supervision of the Board of Charties shall furnish sand board, on request, such information and statistics as may be desired, and to secure accuracy, uniformity, and completeness of such statistics the board may prescribe such forms of report and registration as may be deemed to be esential, and all plans for new institutions of the District, vice Peter Lee, deceased, to the the suppointment of Charles Matthews as laborer in the Metropolitan Police Force of the District, vice Wisewell forms of report and registration as may be deemed to be esential, and all plans for new institutions
